EDITION SALONE DEL MOBILE — 2017

PRIVATE GARDEN — LONDON, UK

For this private garden in central London, landscape designer Jonathan Snow, wanted to create small, urban space with a lot of structure, calming and readable at the same time. Inspired by Jacques Wirtz, Jonathan created a space where the view is guided by large evergreen and fine clipped boxwood balls, and that functions as an extension of the interior. The colour palette of the flowers and plants has been selected to complement those inside the house. The architects has selected Dutch pavers, and a series of U and MR Series in grey taupe finish.
